

“HIPAA for Procrastinators: What to Do Now!”

A CME Program for Medical Staffs, Group Practices and their Office Workforce

HIPAA’s Privacy Rule is in effect. The new Uniform Code Set and Electronic Transactions Rules arrive October 16, 2003. Is your practice ready? Will you get paid October 16th? What should you do now? What are the risks of non-compliance?

Learn real, practical steps to address these issues from a trusted source. Host a training program for physicians and their office staffs that provides unbiased information from CMA’s own chief HIPAA consultant, Steven Fleisher, JD. Formerly CMA’s associate general counsel, Steve is a nationally known HIPAA lecturer and is helping to lead CMA’s HIPAA compliance activities. Attendees will learn:

- STEPS TO TAKE TO BE SURE YOU GET PAID AFTER OCTOBER 16
- Brief review of HIPAA basics on privacy and security
- Determine if the steps you’ve taken really do the job
- Risks of noncompliance

Attendees receive course materials. Physicians receive one hour of CME credit. This program is presented at your organization in a 60-75 minute format with lots of time for questions. The course fee is $1200 plus expenses. NOTE: Programs sponsored by medical staffs that are members of CMA’s OMSS will receive a $200 discount. (A two-hour extended program is also available.)
